

undergraduate research | scholarship | creative activity

Led by Dr Lisa Twomey
Director of Community Engagement and Associate Professor of Spanish

✉ twomey@cord.edu

Summer Workshop Community-Based Research

Community Engagement at Concordia College

... enables students to integrate classroom learning with real-world contexts, practice skills necessary for engaged citizenship, and develop the mindset necessary to navigate a changing, diverse world. (2023)

Community-Based Research (CBR)

...is a participatory approach where research is driven by community priorities and the community is involved throughout the entire research process, from writing the project proposal to analyzing the results to taking action using the research outcomes.

Getting Involved

Identify community needs.
Look for alignment of community needs with your research or disciplinary interests.
What type of research would help solve a community issue or problem? What kind of research could lead to social change?

Community Engagement at Concordia is Centered on:

1. Student Learning - promoting the cultivation of practical knowledge, civic skills, and vocational discernment
2. Mutuality - respecting community wisdom, being responsive to community needs, and seeking equity and mutual benefit
3. Commitment - stressing the importance of relationships and the building of long-term partnerships
4. Flourishing - oriented towards contributing to the health and strength of the community, economically, socially, environmentally, and politically

Office of URSCA

Director, Dr Krys Strand
strand@cord.edu
218.299.3254

🌐 www.ursca.org

✉ research@cord.edu

CONCORDIA COLLEGE
MOORHEAD, MINNESOTA